

This proposal is unacceptable. It will represent a further infringement upon fair use rights of the consumer. I would suggest that those at the FCC remember that their mission extends beyond the protection of large corporations.